

Company facts

About Andermatt Biocontrol Suisse today

Andermatt Biocontrol Suisse produces over a dozen insect virus products for the world market – more than any other manufacturer! In Switzerland, a complete range of effective biological plant protection products is offered for professional crop production. The advisory team supports customers on site for production of ornamental plants, horticulture and viticulture based on expert knowledge and experience. “Healthy food in a healthy environment, for all” is what Andermatt Biocontrol is committed to.